

Thanks for the question. As my profile says I am a recent graduate with master's degree this year, I have been very active as an event organising member within my college during my graduation (prior to COVID situation) and have worked actively with NGO's in organising social and charitable events in my home city Lucknow.

With my ability to plan, organise the requirements, setting deadlines, taking administrative decisions, I have been given the roles of event management team member, Event co-ordinator, Management team leader, Media management, Social media engagement, Graphics designing (poster, flyer, invitation cards etc.), to multiple NGO's organising events. I've worked in 20+ events bearing many kinds of responsibilities.

Alongside, I received invitations from events as Special guest and Guest of honour. Hope this my profile satisfies your needs. Thanks for considering.
